

Project Proposal

Proposal 2

Soundscape:

This proposal will be about taking a stroll through a forest with me. I want to bring the listener through a walk through a forest, hearing the crunching of rocks under my feet, rustling of leaves as I walk by them, the flowing of water and other sounds that I will find. I will go on a rainy day so I the viewer can hear the raindrops in the background. The intention of this is to calm the listener and bring them on a journey of soothing walk through the forest.

I will record a majority of the sounds in the forest so I can keep it as real sounding as I possibly can. I want to add an atmospheric undertone with sounds I find from copyright free websites to keep it interesting. This proposal won't have any words, just the sounds of nature as I walk. I'm going to be making it 2-2.5 minutes long so people can hear a short but sweet snippet.

I got the idea for this from playing Minecraft as a teenager (still do sometimes). In Minecraft you travel around a land through multiple biomes and mine for minerals so you can craft objects, structures, buildings ect. It's one of the most calming games I play because of the sound effects and the sounds you make when doing actions, I wanted to bring that same sort of idea to this project.
